
VAFLET

ONE LIGHT

The logo is two objects on a sheet of paper, lit by the same lamp. The sphere is drawn only with engraving lines. The word casts a block shadow, hatched like an etching.

Black ink, white paper, and the light between them. Everything else in the identity comes from that: hatching instead of grey, stripes instead of gradients, and shadows that always fall the same way.

LOGO VERSIONS

PRIMARY

Site header, presentations, social. On screen it is animated: the light drifts and follows the pointer. Use from 160 px wide.

DOCUMENT

Letterheads, invoices, contracts, PDFs, email signatures. A short, fine shadow that survives print and small sizes.

`vaflet-logo-doc-*.svg`

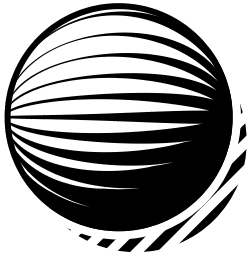

FLAT

One colour, no shadow: stamps, embroidery, engraving, fax-grade print, anything under 100 px wide.

MARK, AVATAR, FAVICON

MARK

The sphere with its ground shadow. Use where the name is already present: slides, merch, a corner of a page.

`vaflet-mark-*.svg`

AVATAR

Telegram, LinkedIn, GitHub, Slack. Centred sphere, no shadow, black or white square. Platforms crop it to a circle; it is built for that.

FAVICON

Engraving lines turn to grey under 32 px, so the favicon redraws the sphere with four bands that thicken away from the light.

CONSTRUCTION

48 The mark box is 48 units. The word is 36 units tall including its shadow and sits centred on the mark.

8 The gap between mark and word is 8 units. Do not tighten or widen it.

x Clear space on every side equals the gap between the sphere and the word, x. Nothing enters it.

↘ Shadows fall down and to the right at rest (54° below the horizon). Every shadow in a layout falls the same way.

HATCH AND MOTION

/	Hatching runs at 45°, rising to the right. The stripe equals the gap.
∿	Large surfaces use the ink-field patterns from the site: flowing zebra stripes, ripples, topographic lines. Always pure black and white, never blurred.
↻	The logo's light drifts about ±30° on an 18-second swing. On hover it follows the pointer, then eases back.
■	Respect reduced motion: the logo then rests at the default light.

DON'T

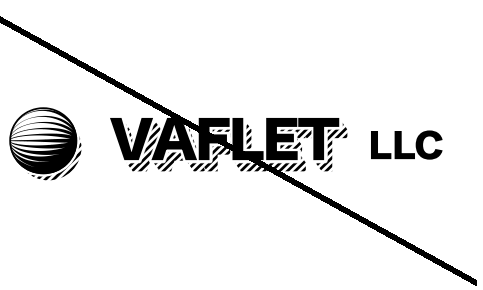

RECOLOUR IT

Ink and paper only.

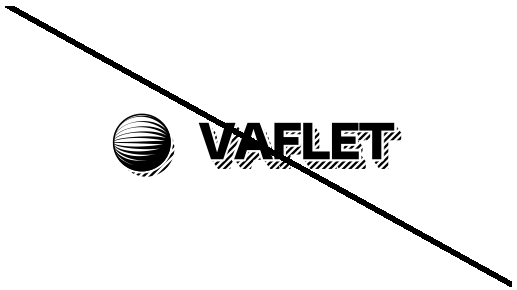

STRETCH OR ROTATE IT

Scale proportionally, keep it level.

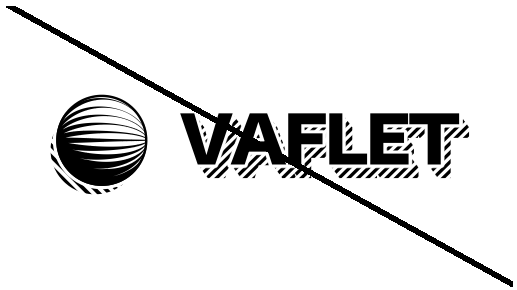

ADD LLC

The legal name lives in legal text, never in the logo.

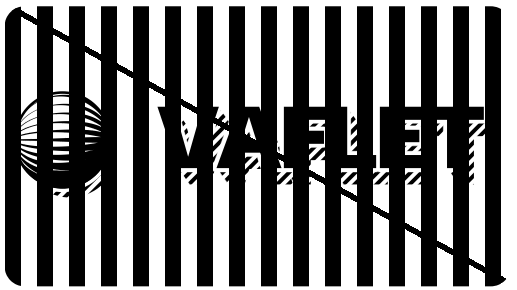

PRIMARY UNDER 160 PX

Switch to the document or flat version.

SPLIT THE LIGHT

Sphere and word always share one light direction.

LOSE IT IN A PATTERN

Over stripes or photos, set it on a solid paper or ink panel.

VOICE

Plain, confident, a little dry. We say what we build and what happens next, then we stop.

The founders lead every project. We never state a headcount and never describe ourselves by size. The client decides how big we are from the work.

✓	"A founder on the first call and a founder at launch."
✓	"We read every word and answer the same day."
✗	"A two-person studio", "just the two of us", "no account managers because we don't have any".
✗	"Vaflet LLC" in headlines. It belongs in the footer and contracts.
